18 MODELS, 121 REAL MONEY QUESTIONS, FIVE TIMES EACH

57%

of the answers were wrong.

The best-known AI models, tested on questions with checkable answers. They got 43% right.

AND DIFFICULTY MAKES IT WORSE

The harder the question, the worse it got.

57% → 88%

errors, all questions

errors, the complex ones

One model missed 99% of the complex ones, which takes some doing.

THE PART THAT SHOULD WORRY YOU

It invented rules that do not exist.

Not only miscalculations. Missing warnings, tax changes it ignored, and regulations it made up, all delivered plainly to someone with no way of knowing.

YOU HAVE PROBABLY SPOTTED THE CATCH

These were money questions.

Not questions about your trade. And the study came from a financial technology firm. I say it because nobody else quoting this number will.

BUT THE PATTERN CARRIES

It is answering about you as well.

Built from whatever it can find. A 2019 directory listing and a competitor's blog post, if that is all there is.
